

Abstract

Emilios Christodoulidis

Drawing on the last part (part V) of 'Europe's Donors and its Supplicants' (circulated), I will look at how the discourse of necessity was mobilised alongside that of emergency to compel assent to the troika's policies. The meaning of crisis, and the meaning of hubris in tragedy will be discussed along the way.